FOIA Number: 2013-1749-F

Scope and Content Note:

The materials in FOIA 2013-1749-F are a selective, not necessarily all inclusive, body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult the archivist about related materials. This material contains memoranda, correspondence, papers, talking points, printed material, and press releases. Memoranda include standard inter-staff memos on draft organizational documents for the Citizen Democracy Corps, including guidelines, function, and structure. Memos also include routine legislative referral memos concerning foreign assistance bills, discussion drafts, and Agency for International Development Information legislation daily reports. Correspondence includes public mail in support of the Citizens Democracy Corps and standard White House staff response letters. Papers consist of "The Worldwide Trend toward Democratic Capitalism" by Michael Boskin, the 1990 Annual Report of 2013-1749-F 2 the National Endowment for Democracy, and the 1992 testimony of Secretary Baker before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Talking points are in regards to foreign assistance programs and the economic situation in Eastern Europe. Printed material consist of news articles on the National Endowment for Democracy, compendium of U.S. Nonprofit Assistance to Central and Eastern Europe and the Commonwealth of Independent States Volumes I and II, and a publication from the International Conference from the Center for Democracy. Press releases contain fact sheets on the Citizens Democracy Corps, the 1992 International Affairs Budget, and the 1990 State of the Union address. Also included in the press releases are remarks by the President to the Citizens Democracy Corps conference and the President's address to United Nations General Assembly.
